

VILLAGE OF GENOA POLICE DEPARTMENT

2009 FOURTH QUARTER REPORT

A Word about Crime Data...

Before analyzing the following crime information, it is important to remember a couple of key points:

1. The following figures are for reported incidents only. It is highly recognized that many crimes go unreported, and they do so for a multitude of reasons. The figures contained in this report are only of those incidents that are brought to the attention of the police department, or otherwise discovered by the police department.
2. The following figures are only those that the Genoa Police Department is reporting on. There are several other law enforcement agencies that also have jurisdiction inside Genoa (e.g. Clay Township Police Department, Ohio State Highway Patrol, Ottawa County Sheriff's Office, Ottawa County Drug Task Force, and the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, to name a few). For example, if a fatal traffic crash occurs inside the village, the Ohio State Highway Patrol will most likely handle the report of that crash. Although our officers will in fact assist the Patrol, the report that our officers do will be type-coded as an "Assist Other Department" incident report, and not a "Fatal Accident" report.
3. Some incidents could be classified (type-coded) in different ways. For example, a neighbor dispute could be coded as a "Neighbor Dispute" or it could be coded as "Civil." It is largely up to the discretion of the reporting officer as to how the report gets type-coded.

Current Staffing

The Genoa Police Department currently utilizes a total of six employees. With these employees, the village is provided with round-the-clock police protection and services. The current breakdown of employees is as follows:

Chief Randy Hill (full-time)
Sergeant Todd Mocniak (full-time)
Officer Kevin Miller (full-time)
Officer Mike Woods (full-time)
Officer Eric Macek (part-time)
Officer Jason Goins (part-time)

Police Vehicles

The Genoa Police Department currently utilizes a total of four police vehicles for day-to-day operations. The breakdown of those vehicles and usage statistics are as follows:

Vehicle Description:	Odometer Reading, 12/31/2009:	Total Miles Traveled During Fourth Quarter:	Total Fuel Consumption During Fourth Quarter:
2004 Chevy Impala (marked)	74534	1875 miles	176.147 gallons
2006 Chevy Impala (marked)	58299	2358 miles	240.898 gallons
2007 Chevy Impala (marked)	41694	3950 miles	210.964 gallons
2009 Chevy Impala (marked)	9918	5230 miles	416.783 gallons
		Total: 13,413 miles	Total: 1044.792 gal.

During the second quarter of 2009, the Genoa Police Department implemented a Police Bike Patrol program. This program, funded by area donations, allows trained police officers to patrol areas of the Village, which would otherwise be difficult to patrol from a conventional police cruiser. This program also reduces fuel and repair costs on the patrol fleet. During the fourth quarter (thru October 31, 2009), officers were assigned 29 of the 31 days on bike patrol, (94%) thus further reducing fuel costs and improving visibility and communication with area residents. The Police Bike Patrol program will resume April 01, 2010 – weather permitting.

Community-Oriented Policing

In October, 2008 the Genoa Police Department instituted a new initiative that helps promote a positive relationship with the community. Under this program, officers exit their patrol cars and walk into businesses, restaurants, offices, and other places and interact with the business employees and patrons. This gives the police department a visible presence in the community, helps deter crime, and helps build bonds with business owners, employees, patrons, and other citizens.

The program is divided into two categories—Business Checks and Permit Holder Checks. For both categories, the officer takes the same actions and is functionally the same. However, when an officer enters a business or establishment that has a liquor permit issued by the Ohio Department of Commerce, it is recorded as a Permit Holder Check instead of a Business Check.

Business Checks: 1139

Permit Holder Checks: 432

The police department also performs door checks of businesses and other public places during the night. This is done to insure that doors or windows are not left open. Officers also check doors and windows to residences while the owners are on vacation or otherwise out of town.

After-Hours Door Checks / Vacation House Checks: 1499
